

Changes to YiMovi Keystone Account

Uploading additional Video Clips

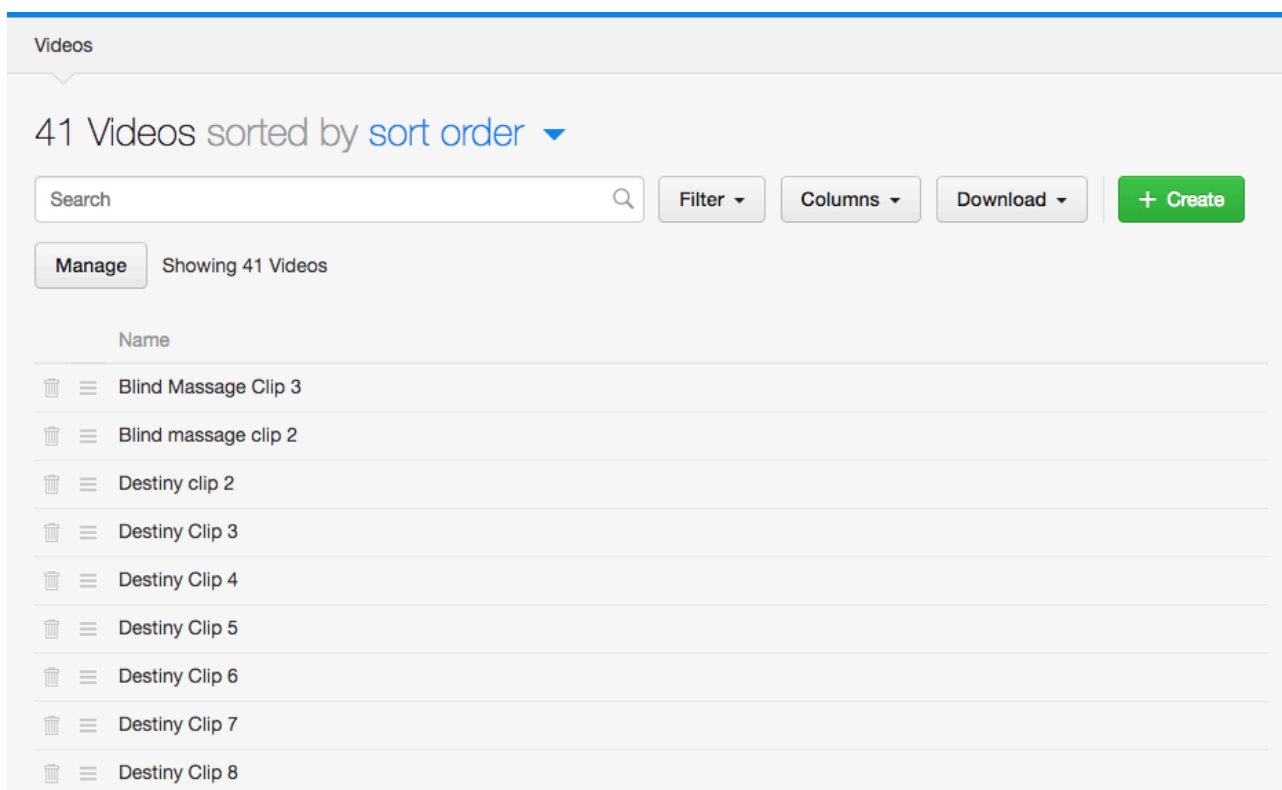

Due to changes to the way Keystone handles coded input we have altered the way in which videos can be uploaded onto the YiMovi website.

There is a now new tab on the top navbar called videos

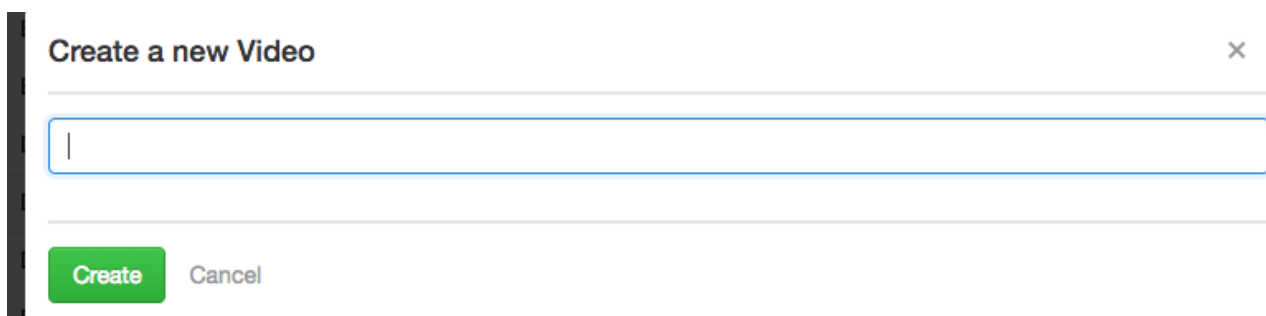

On this page you will be able to add all films that you have and then access these from individual film pages.

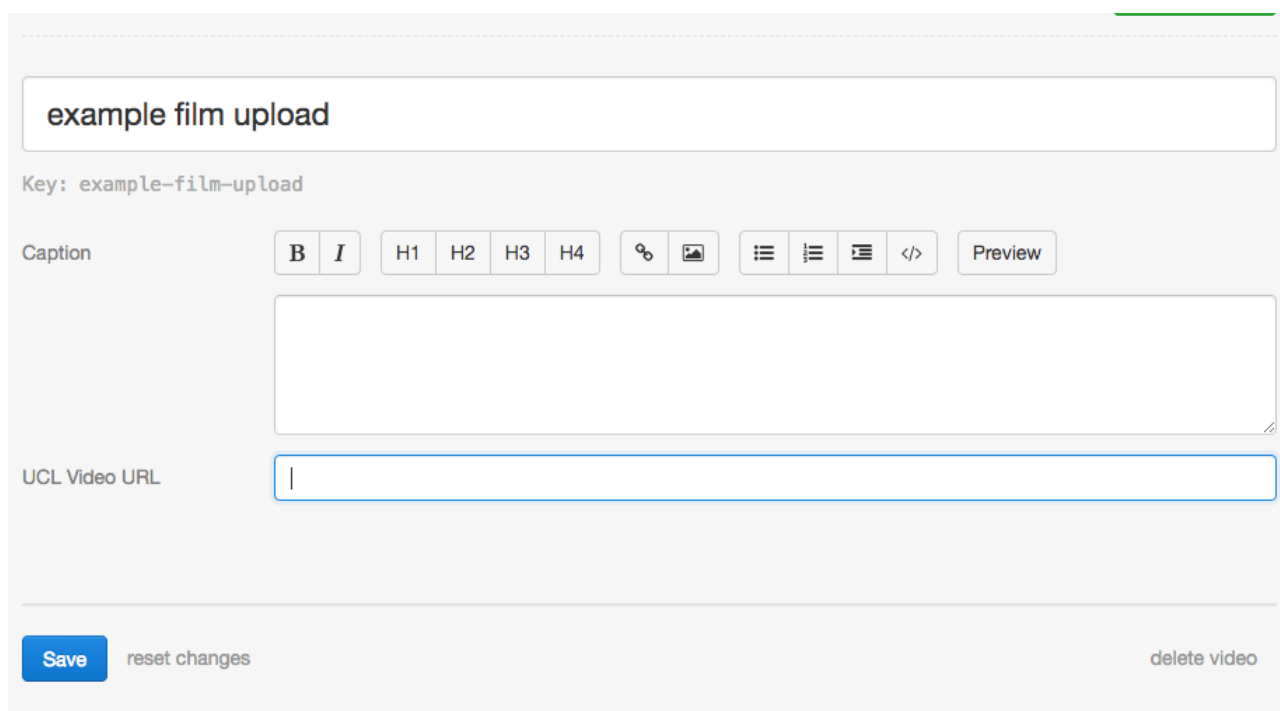

The page set up is like this, similar to the other pages:

To add a new film click create and enter the video name. This won't be seen by the user so keep it simple

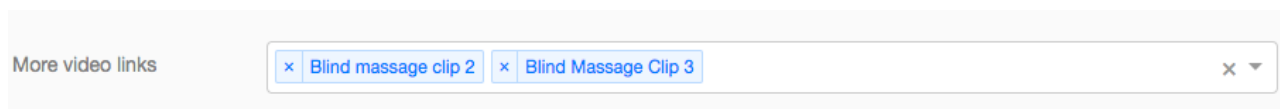

You can then add a caption and the URL link from the UCL media centre.

The screenshot shows a web form titled "example film upload". Below the title is a key "Key: example-film-upload". The form has a "Caption" section with a rich text editor containing buttons for bold (B), italic (I), heading levels (H1, H2, H3, H4), link, image, list, and code, along with a "Preview" button. Below the caption editor is a "UCL Video URL" input field. At the bottom, there are three buttons: "Save" (in a blue box), "reset changes", and "delete video".

Once this is saved you will be able to add the films to the film pages. There is a section called “More Video Links” within each movie profile. Here you have the ability to add the movies that you have saved onto Keystone by typing in the name that you chose. Then once you have saved the page the videos will appear on the site

Uploading PDF files

As a part of the recent sprint we have added a functionality that will enable you to add PDF files to the site under a heading of ‘References’ on the site.

You can add these documents by following the heading ‘Resources’ in the navbar:

From here you can follow the same process as you used for uploading films. By Adding a resource, providing a summary (this is the name that will appear) and attaching the file.

You will then be able to add this to the film pages through the section called References.
